FARMS Preliminary Reports

The Foundation for Ancient Research and Mormon Studies (FARMS) was founded in 1979 as a clearinghouse to distribute scholarly articles focused on Latter-day Saint scripture. Within a few years, FARMS began collecting and distributing its own “Preliminary Reports.” These were said to consist of “tentative papers reflecting substantial research [that was] not yet ready for final publication.” FARMS made them available “to be critiqued and improved and to stimulate further research.”

Having since absorbed FARMS into the Willes Center for Book of Mormon Studies, the Maxwell Institute offers the FARMS Preliminary Reports here in that same spirit. Although their quality is uneven, they represent the energy and zeal of those who sought to enrich our understanding of LDS scripture.

If you possess copies of Preliminary Reports that are not included on our website, please contact us at maxwell_institute@byu.edu to help us provide the most complete collection possible.

B I B L I O G R A P H Y

- ABR Abraham in Egypt (Deseret: 1981, i-xi, 288. Bibliography, index)
[This book is dedicated to the proposition that the Egyptians have something important and unfamiliar to communicate, and that such knowledge is to be found, among other places, in the Book of Abraham." - H.N.]
- ACC "Acclamatio (Never Cry Mob)" (Provo: Photocopied by an unknown source at BYU, 1978). 11 pp.
[This address was labeled "Anon." It is an unconscious summary of his 1939 dissertation and discusses that most elementary of institutions, the "acclamatio," comparing it to the mob persecutions against the Mormons.]
- AGE "An Age of Discovery" (8 pages typescript)
[A compilation of quotes dealing with recent developments in Biblical and related studies. Notes for SIN.]
- "All the Court's A Stage: Facsimile No. 3, A Royal Mumming" (see ABR 116-148)
 [An amazing detailed description of facsimile number 3 using parallels from similar Egyptian pictures depicting coronation and other family rituals.]
- "The Ancient Law of Liberty" (see WOL 166-173)
 [Free agency, its principles and its practice from Irenaeus to July 4, 1776.]
- ANC "Ancient Temples: What Do They Signify?" The Ensign II (September 1972), 46-49.
 [An attempt to compare Old and New World holy structures and monuments to modern LDS temples.]
- ANW The Ancient World by Joseph Ward Swain (New York: Harper, 1950, 2 vols.). Review in The Historian, XIII (Autumn 1950), 79-81.
 [Though brief, this review shows Nibley's erudition at its best.]
- "The Apocalyptic Background" (see WAY 902-903, 963)
 [A discussion of eschatology with Rudolf Bultmann's metamorphosis of it into mythology.]
- "The Apocrypha and the Book of Mormon" (see APP 164-177)
 [An urging to re-evaluate the apocrypha in the light of D&C 91.]
- APO "Apocryphal Writings" (Note reads: Given at a BYU Long Beach Seminary (sic) in 1968, 2 years after Nibley was in Israel) 26 pp.
 [A survey of important teachings from 38 apocryphal, pseudepigraphal or patristic writings.]
- APP An Approach to the Book of Mormon (Salt Lake City: The Council of the Twelve Apostles of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 1957; Salt Lake City: Deseret Book, 1964; Salt Lake City: Deseret Book, 1976 as part of the "Classics in Mormon Literature" series. xvi, 416 pp.
 [Published originally as the lesson manual for the Melchizedek Priesthood quorums of The Church, its introduction was fraught with problems, as can be seen by this excerpt from NIB, p. 57: "Years ago when I wrote the 1957 Priesthood Manual, An Approach to the Book of Mormon, the committee turned down every chapter. But President McKay overruled the committee on every chapter. Every one of them. He said that if it's over their heads, let them reach for it. And he left every chapter just as I had it. The committee fumed at the mouth and said, "We can't have it!," and he turned around and said, "We jolly well can have it! Let them work at it a little." I was a very good friend of Brother Richard L. Evans, and he always used to tell me, "always write as if you were writing to the tiredest farmer in Koosharem." If you are writing to the tiredest farmer in Koosharem, what do you do to keep him awake? No attention span, no interest or anything. He's just a tired, dead farmer. If he's the one you have to write for, you're certainly going to lose your other audience in a hurry. I never obeyed that counsel."]

- "The Archaeological Problem" (see APP 366-377)
[An exhortation to LDS archaeologists, both professional and amateur, to stop looking for the wrong things in trying to find external evidence for the Book of Mormon.]
- ARC "Archaeology and Our Religion" (unpublished manuscript from ca. 1965). 9 leaves.
[This manuscript is accompanied by two cover letters dated September 16, 1965. The first is a one page letter addressed to a "Brother" and the other is a five page letter addressed to a "Mr. W.", presumably Mr. Wheelwright of the Instructor magazine. "Archaeology and Our Religion" was originally intended to be included in the "I Believe" series in the Instructor but was not included because of its controversial nature, i.e., the debunking of archaeology, geology and other sciences for the lack of honest searching for the truth. The second letter is a diatribe for the "pursuit of truth" no matter who gets hurt.]
- ARR "The Arrow, the Hunter, and the State," Western Political Quarterly, II (1949), 328-344.
[Written as a result of research done for his book Lehi in the Desert and the World of the Jaredites, this article is a purely secular study of the role of the marked arrow in ancient politics.]
- AST "As Things Stand at the Moment," Brigham Young University Studies, IX (Autumn 1968), 69-102.
[A debate over the Joseph Smith Papyri brought about by Mr. Wallace Turner's article of July 15, 1968 in the New York Times. The majority of the article is a dialogue between "We" and "They" in typical Nibley humor. Illustrated.]
- "An Auspicious Beginning" (see APP 26-37)
[A case for universalism in the world and times of Lehi.]
- "The Babylonian Background" (see THR 509-511, 514, 516)
[Sumerian Texts, the Pyramid Texts and the Gilgamesh Epic are discussed as genuine background for the Jaredites.]
- BAP "Baptism for the Dead in Ancient Times," a series of articles in the Improvement Era: 51 (December 1948), 786-788, 836-838; 52 (January 1949), 24-26, 60; 52 (February 1949), 90-91, 109-110, 112; 52 (March 1949), 146-148, 180-183; 52 (April 1949), 212-214.
[Relying heavily upon patristic writings for evidence, Nibley argues convincingly for the LDS interpretation of I Corinthians 15:29. His article was later discussed by Bernard M. Foschini in Catholic Biblical Quarterly 13 (1951) 51-53, 70-73, in an article entitled, "Those Who Are Baptized for the Dead."]
- BAR Bar Kochba: The Rediscovery of the Legendary Hero of the Second Jewish Revolt Against Rome, by Yigael Yadin (New York: Random House, 1971). A book review in BYU Studies 14n1 (Autumn 1973), 115-126.
[Yadin's book recounts his finds March 15, 1961 of ancient artifacts and documents in a cave in the Nahal Hever cliffs. Nibley recalls his book Lehi in the Desert and shows how the Bar Kochba documents describe events closely paralleling those of Lehi and his family.]
- BEF "Before Adam," 39 pp., including footnotes.
[In this popular address given April 1, 1980, Nibley is addressing the question, "What about those people who lived thousands of years before Adam?" Evolution, creatio ex nihilo, the LDS versions of creation and the nine roles of Adam are discussed. The Book of Abraham is the major source for this talk.]
- BES "The Best Possible Test," Dialogue: A Journal of Mormon Thought VIII (Spring 1973), 73-77.
[Views on revelation, Blacks and the priesthood. His perspective is such that he says, "If we really took the Lord's teachings seriously, we would be envious of the Negroes." But finally he quotes D&C 10:37, "...hold your peace until I see fit to make all things known unto the world concerning the matter." The Lord saw fit five years later.]
- BEY "Beyond Politics," BYU Studies XV (Autumn 1974), 3-28; also in Nibley on the Timely and the Timeless, pp. 279-305.
[Speech delivered before the Pi Sigma Alpha Honor Society for Political Science Week, October 26, 1973. It is an overview of politics from the fall of Adam and Eve to the Second Coming. Babylon, Satan, Repentance and Zion are common themes throughout.]

- "The Bible in the Book of Mormon" (see SIN 127-152)
[A discussion of formulaic ancient writing, Nephi's independent sources, and the "Josiah" question.]
- "The Bible, the Scrolls, and the Book of Mormon: A Problem of Three Bibles"
(See SIN [P] 974-977, 1013, 1040, 1090-1091, 1165-1168, 32-34, 44-46, 118-122, 196-197, 232-234.)
[The Dead Sea Scrolls and the Book of Mormon are discussed as "additions" to the Bible.]
- BIR "Bird Island" (Dialogue: A Journal of Mormon Thought, vol. X, no. 4, Autumn 1977, 120-123.)
[One of the most humorous and satirical of his works, "Bird Island" was originally a well-circulated Samizdat. It makes light of archaeology in all its weaknesses.]
- JUD "The Book of Mormon Acquitted"
[An earlier title for "Judging and Prejudging the Book of Abraham."]
- "The Book of Mormon and the Book of the Dead" (see ABR 1-40)
[Books of the Dead, the Book of Abraham, the Apocalypse of Abraham, and the Testament of Abraham compared.]
- BKE "The Book of Enoch as a Theodicy" (28 pp. typescript read at the Denver meeting of the Society for Biblical Literature, 1974 [?].)
[Originally to be part of STT in The Ensign series.]
- BMA "The Book of Mormon and the Ruins: The Main Issues" (10 typescript pp. with 2 maps. July 13, 1980.)
[Seems to be an earlier version of FRE.]
- BMM "The Book of Mormon as a Mirror of the East" (Improvement Era vol. 51, April 1948, 202-204, 249-251; reprint Improvement Era vol. 73, Nov. 1970, 115-120, 122-125. Used for index.)
[Note: Original edition contained maps and figures. The prototype for all later articles and books discussing the Book of Mormon and its ancient historical milieu.]
- "The Book of Mormon as a Witness" (see WOL 189-196)
[The authenticity of the Book of Mormon is shown through its ability to act as a reliable witness to ancient history.]
- "The Book of Mormon as Scripture" (see SIN Part 1, 3-152)
[A general discussion of ancient scripture, the transmission of divine words, and the convincing evidence that the Book of Mormon falls into the same pattern as so-called "canonical" scripture.]
- BMT "The Book of Mormon: True or False?" (Millennial Star, 124 [Nov. 1962], 274-277.)
[The difficulties of proving the Book of Mormon true or false without reading it. Five "Rules to be Followed by a Successful Forger" are included, none of which were paid attention to by Joseph Smith.]
- BOY "The Boy, Nephi, in Jerusalem" (The Instructor, 96 [March 1961], 84-85.)
[Editor's Note: This story is the author's concept of what might have been in the Jerusalem of about 600 B.C. While not scriptural, the details of trade and politics and the general background indicated herein are supported by the author's extensive research and by artifacts of the period.]
- [BRE, BRL, BRS, and BRT are part of a Brigham Young series of four lectures delivered by H.N. on June 6, 7, and 9, 1967.]
- BRE "Brigham Young as an Educator" (15 page typescript, August 1979.) Recorded 6-9-67.
[The precursor of his well-known EDU in 1970 and the lesser known MOB in 1976. A survey of some of Brigham Young's thoughts concerning education.]
- BRL "Brigham Young as a Leader" (6 June 1967, 21 pp. typescript)
[Eight principles of leadership are outlined.]

- BRS "Brigham Young as a Statesman" (unpublished typescript from June 7, 1967 tape recording). 41 pp.
[Politics, government, crime and other related society matters are discussed.]
- BRT "Brigham Young as a Theologian" (unpublished typescript from June 9, 1967 tape recording). 4 pp.
[War, hell, mourning and evil are some of the topics included. Nibley closes the talk with one of his more revealing and touching testimonies.]
- BY "Brigham Young and the Enemy" in The Young Democrat, privately printed leaflets, edited by Omar Kadar and published in two separate parts in 1970. 4 pp. and 11 pp.
[Subheadings used by Nibley throughout the leaflets reveal the contents best: "Fighting Fire with Non-Fire," "Brigham on War," "Brigham Young's Indian Policy," "Locating the Enemy," "The Slough of Self-Righteousness," "There is Business And...", "The Helpless Enemy," "The Adversary in Action," "The Fatal Flaw," "Covetousness the Number One Weapon."]
- BYE "Brigham Young on the Environment" in To the Glory of God: Mormon Essays on Great Issues--Environment, Commitment, Love, Peace, Youth, Man, edited by Truman G. Madsen and Charles D. Tate. Salt Lake City: Deseret Book, 1972. 3-29.
[Contents: "The Celestial Environment," "Use All Gently," "Sin is Waste," "Brigham in Action," "Reverence for Everything," "The Day of the Destroyer." An outgrowth of a talk given April 21, 1971 for Earth Week at BYU. A 6-page mimeo exists of quotes from Brigham Young: "The Earth is Our Home," "God Made the Earth is Our Home," "God Made the Earth Beautiful for Man," "The Earth Has Become Polluted," "The Saints Must Reverse the Trend," "They Must Preserve an Unpolluted Land," "All Natural Resources Must be Preserved." see also MAN]
- "...But Unto Them It is Not Given" (see SIN 96-126)
- BYF "Brigham Young on the Environment"
[Quotations only from a talk given for Earth Week, April 21, 1971.]
- CAN "Candidates for the 'Search Society': Hugh Nibley and Kimball Hansen" in BYU Today, August 1980. 12-13
[Several months after Nibley delivered his lecture "Before Adam" BYU Today conducted this interview with Nibley and Physics and Astronomy Professor Kimball Hansen concerning reality, science, and creation. Together they agreed that "people on this planet may never know for sure, short of further revelation, concerning the realities of the big bang and black holes and concerning the specifics of creation."]
- "The Celestial Environment" (Original title of BYE) (see BYE)
- CEN "Censoring the Joseph Smith Story" in the Improvement Era 64 (July 1961) 490-492, 522-526, 528; (August 1961) 577-579, 605-609; (October 1961) 724-725, 736-740; (November 1961) 812-813, 865-869.
[An evaluation of the contemporary critics of the Joseph Smith story, from J.B. Turner and Henry Caswell to Eduard Meyer and Fawn M. Brodie. Most of this material appeared in his book The Myth Makers.]
- "Challenge and Response" (see NEP I, 18-24; II, 14-18, III, 16-18, 20-22; IV, 64-69)
[An introduction to the challenge of critics who question the authenticity of the Pearl of Great Price.]
- "The Changing Scene" (see APP 1-25)
[An exhortation to re-examine the Book of Mormon and a discussion of the metallic plates upon which scriptures are written.]
- "Checking on Long-Forgotten Lore" (see SIN 197-239)
[The authenticity of the Book of Mormon is shown by examining peculiar situations and teachings, the Dead Sea Scrolls and some traditions and legends.]
- CHI "Christ Among the Ruins" (unpublished manuscript dated March 2, 1981).
[Originally part 2 of "Souvenirs from Lehi's Jerusalem" (SOV) this writing is an attempt to show the authenticity of 3 Nephi by pointing out parallels in the Coptic manuscript of the Gospel of the Twelve Apostles, discovered in 1904.]

- CHR "Christian Envy of the Temple" in Jewish Quarterly Review 50 (1959, 1960) 97-123, 229-240.
[A two-part essay showing the reaction of early Christian scholars to the destruction and disappearance of the temple. Reprinted with the same title in When the Lights Went Out, pp. 1970.]
- CMQ "The Christmas Quest," Millennial Star 112 (January 1950), 4-5.
[Editor's note in the article: "With Christmas still fresh in our memories, Professor Hugh Nibley...gives us an interesting insight into what the world looks for in the celebration of Christmas." His last comment is very thought provoking, "By celebrating Christmas the world serves notice that it is still looking for the Gospel."]
- "Churches in the Wilderness" (see also APP 113-141)
[Lehi and the Nephite records are compared to their historical milieu.]
- CNW "Churches in the Wilderness" in Madsen, Truman, G., ed. Nibley on the Timely and the Timeless: Classic Essays of Hugh W. Nibley, pp. 155-186.
Provo: BYU Religious Studies Center, 1978.
[Not to be confused with the preceding item in APP, this article makes similar comparisons using the Dead Sea Scrolls.]
- "The City and the Sand" (see LEH 97-118)
[Lehi's poetic abilities; his sons' adventures in Jerusalem with Laban.]
- COL "Columbus and Revelation," The Instructor 88 (October 1953) 319-320.
[A discussion concerning the Claim of Columbus that his discovery of the Indies was the result of revelation.]
- COM "Comments" in Mormonism, A Faith For All Cultures, ed., F. LaMond Tullis pp. 22-28.
Provo: BYU Press, 1978.
[Edited remarks given at the regional sessions of the Expanding Church Symposium in 1976 as a response to an essay by Noel B. Reynolds on cultural diversity in the universal church.]
- COMM "Common Carrier: Author Defends Image of Joseph Smith as Prophet" Salt Lake Tribune, November 25, 1973, 2 pp.
[A response to Jerald and Sandra Tanner concerning his forthcoming book MES and a defense of Joseph Smith and Mormonism through comparison of the Book of Abraham and the Book of Breathings.]
- "The Comparative Method" (see MIX 744-747, 759, 848, 854, 856)
[A comparison of Ethan Smith's View of the Hebrews in the Book of Mormon.]
- CONF "Conflict in the Churches Between the God of the Bible and the God of the Philosophers" 5 pp. typescript.
[A series of quotes with little original material. Nibley's point is that Jewish teachers and pagan philosophers influenced early Christianity to slowly deeschatologize and de-literalize the Scriptures.]
- "Controlling the Past (A Consideration of Methods)" (see WAY 20-22, 44-45, 86-87, 104, 106-107, 152-154, 166, 168, 230-232, 258, 260-261, 306-308, 364-366, 384-386, 455-456)
[Using the words of the ancient writers, Nibley shows, in the light of the Dead Sea Scrolls discovery, the changes in the early Christian church and its gradual apostasy.]
- CON "A Conversation With Hugh Nibley" in Dialogue vol. XII no. 4, pp. 10-27, Winter 1979.
[An informal interview conducted by Mary L. Bradford, Gary P. Gillum and H. Curtis Wright.]
- COP "A Coptic Christian 'Book of Breathings'" 3 pp. plus footnotes.
1978 (September 25)
[Ms. has heading Appendix VI, presumably a part of MES before it was published. An analysis of a fragment from a large undated Egyptian potsherd.]

- "A Creation of Man" (see MES 129-161)
[A commentary of lines 20-22, 24-29, 38-41, 57-58 of the Book of Breathing. Includes The Ritual Meal, The Awakening, Temple as Observatory, and Temple as Power-House.]
- "The Crime of Being a Prophet" (see MYM, Part I, 9-87)
[A fantasy court-room trial of Joseph Smith by his enemies, from E. D. Howe and John C. Bennett to Pomeroy Tucker and J. B. Turner. Consists of three scenes: "Everybody knew him when;" "Come, Now, Mr. Tucker!" and "Portrait of a Prophet."]
- "Culmination and Conclusion" (see MES 233-253)
[Includes instructions for symbolic wrappings and veils and ritual embraces.]
- CUW (see CNW)
- "Cyril of Jerusalem's Lectures on the Ordinances" (see MES 279-305)
[A reprinted translation from Cyril's "Five Explanatory Lectures to the Newly Enlightened" delivered at Eastertime around 350 A.D.]
- DAR "Dark Days in Jerusalem: The Lachish Letters and the Book of Mormon (1 Nephi) 19 pp. (Date on copy January 22, 1980) (see also SOV)

 [As with other Nibley reviews, this one shows his genius for coming to grips with problems in comparing disparate cultures, mind-sets or perspectives of reality. He comes to the point, but not without the famous metaphors he is so well known for: 'Determined to keep all approaches to East and West on an impeccably correct scientific and scholarly level, our authors forget that they must deal with masses, that even the obscene orientalism of Hollywood and the comics shows a sort of nostalgia in the West for things Oriental, and that a game of backgammon in a Syrian restaurant or a Turkish bath can come far nearer to achieving a cultural meeting of the minds and tastes than any displays of Persian miniatures, Abbasid coins, or twelfth-century armor.']

[A Humorous dialogue between Professor F. and Mr. Blank covering the ancient epic milieu surrounding the Jaredites. Following the dialogue Nibley discusses sources succinctly. Illustrated throughout.]

"They Take Up the Sword" (see LEH 222-242)

[Includes 'The Great Open Spaces,' 'Wars of Extermination,' and 'Jaredite Survivors?']

"Ties Between the Old World and the New" (see APP 242-298)

[Includes 'Proper Names in the Book of Mormon,' 'Old World Ritual in the New World,' 'Ezekiel 37:15-23 as evidence for the Book of Mormon,' and 'Some Test Cases from the Book of Ether.']

"A Time for Re-examination" (see APP 13-25)

[An argument that the claims of the Book of Mormon can be tested, especially in the light of new discoveries.]

TOO

"To Open the Last Dispensation: Moses Chapter 1" in Nibley on the Timely and and the Timeless, pp. 2-20

[Taken from part 7 of "A Strange Thing in the Land."]

TOR

The Torment of Secrecy: The Background and Consequences of American Security Policies by Edward A. Shils (Glencoe, Ill: The Free Press, 1956) Book review in American Political Science Review, L (September 1956), 887-888.
["like Bottom, Professor Shils will 'roar you as gently as any sucking dove, and the result is neither a good roar nor a convincing plea for moderation."]

"Translated Correctly?" (see MES 47-54)

[A definition of translation, what Joseph Smith meant by translation, the Urim and Thummim, intuition, and methods versus results.]

TRE

"Treasures in the Heavens: Some Early Christian Insights into the Organizing of Worlds" Dialogue: A Journal of Mormon Thought VIII, March 4, 1973, pp. 76-98.
["Cosmist" doctrine of the most esoteric kind, yet mystifying and enthralling, especially in the voluminous footnotes, which use more space than the text itself.]

"The Trouble with Ham" (see ABR 198-224)

[Ham as Min-Khem, the curse of Ham, the mark of Cain, the Black race, and the Lamanites.]

"The Troubled Orient" (see LEH 1-26)

[Includes 'The Problem,' 'The Situation in Juersalem,' 'Language and the Book of Mormon,' and 'Egyptian Politics in the New World.']

"A Twilight World" (see LEH 143-164)

[Includes 'The Problem,' 'The Method,' 'Conflicting Patterns of History,' 'The Tower,' and 'The Stolen Garment.' First chapter in The World of the Jaredites.]

"The Two-faced Monster" (see SOU 45-65)

[A humorous expose of Brigham Young, including 'Brigham the Cad, etc., etc.,' 'Brigham the Good Guy,' 'The Beloved Bogey,' and 'It Must Have Been Two Other People.']

[Author's note: The epistolary form of this series of articles, is the style in which the writer most commonly expounds his views. Although "Professor F." to whom these letters are addressed is a purely fictitious anthropologist in an eastern university, he is typical of many a real correspondent, and the letters themselves are no less typical. If "F." seems unduly meek and teachable, that is because with the limited space at our disposal it would be folly to engage in long and needless controversies.]
- WRI "Writing and Publication in Graduate School" Typescript 1-7 leaves.
[Address to the History Honors Banquet, Wilkinson Center, May 12, 1965.]
[The gist of this address is contained in one pitly sentence: publication is especially important in a church university; for where the severe standards imposed by professional journals are not applied, scholars inevitably succumb to the occupational hazards of the religion teacher, easily lapsing into superficial pseudo-scholarship, irresponsible speculation, ill-informed controversy, and authoritarian pomposity.]
